I think we we talked about this last meeting, but the Governor's Bipartisan Election Task Force announced its report on November 2nd. It has a number of different programmatic recommendations. The one that obviously we talked about last time, which based on the reports from the last meeting that they had that made it in was our was how we can utilize our website to develop more of a one-stop or, we, I think, developed the framework for this, but to enhance the one-stop shop aspect of the Clean Elections

It is 9:30 a.m. on November 16th, 2023, and I'm going to call this meeting of the Citizens Clean Elections Commission to order. With that, we will take attendance. Commissioners, please identify yourselves for the record. COMMISSIONER PATON: Galen Paton. COMMISSIONER CHAN: Amy Chan. CHAIRMAN KIMBLE: And I'm Commissioner Kimble. We have a quorum, so we will begin. Item II, discussion and possible action on meeting minutes for October 26, 2023. Commissioners, you have the minutes from our October meeting in the packet. Is there any discussion on the minutes? (No response.) CHAIRMAN KIMBLE: If not, then do I have a motion to approve the minutes? Commissioner Chan. COMMISSIONER CHAN: I move that we approve the minutes as written. CHAIRMAN KIMBLE: Thank you, Commissioner Chan.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24	could even get to, and so that was really a success and leaving people wanting more. I also wanted to highlight the workshop that Avery did at the Tempe Public Library for National Civics Day. This was in conjunction with the Maricopa County Recorder's Office. And Avery has developed a presentation on civil discourse, and I had I live in Tempe, and so I had some folks who I know were there, and they gave it high marks. And so that was that was good to hear. We are continuing to host workshops for participating candidates every week, and we've had 27 candidates attend so far. I think we we talked about this last meeting, but the Governor's Bipartisan Election Task Force announced its report on November 2nd. It has a number of different programmatic recommendations. The one that obviously we talked about last time, which based on the reports from the last meeting that they had that made it in was our was how we can utilize our website to develop more of a one-stop or, we, I think, developed the framework for this, but to enhance the one-stop shop aspect of the Clean Elections website. There are some other programmatic aspects in

Page 6 1 orders that the Governor issued. We will have a hearing on December 13th on --3 just going to move on to the legal materials. There's 4 a hearing on December 13th on the legislative 5 leadership's lawsuit and motion for a preliminary 6 injunction on Proposition 211. So this is a case that 7 principally has to do with the legislative leadership, 8 so the Speaker of the House and the President of the 9 Senate's claims that the -- that Prop 211, the 10 statutory framework violates the separation of powers 11 principles and a related concept called the 12 Nondelegation Doctrine, which has something to do with 13 how the Legislature, or in this case the voters who act 14 as the Legislature, can delegate certain powers to 15 executive agencies. You know, Mary and her team have 16 been working on this, along with the AG's Office. 17 Those are kind of the main things I wanted 18 to -- to mention on the report. Those are really the 19 highlights, from my perspective, unless any 20 Commissioners have any questions. CHAIRMAN KIMBLE: Thank you, Tom. 21 22 Are there any questions from Commissioners on 23 Tom's report?

CHAIRMAN KIMBLE: Okay. Thank you, Tom.

(No response.)

25

1 will -- how that course of action would be treated 2 under Prop 211. So the -- so the purpose of that is to 4 provide a framework in which folks who have an interest 5 in -- can, you know, get a -- an answer to a question 6 without having to have it only answered through some 7 kind of enforcement process. And, as part of that, it 8 provides some protection to the person who asks if they 9 abide by the terms of the advisory opinion. 10 So in that sense, it's a transparent way to 11 deal with legal and, to some extent, policy questions, 12 and it does so in a way that, rather than expanding in 13 a particular way the Commission's role, rather it 14 really is a -- is a limiting effort and ensures that 15 the Commission's discretion is channeled into a 16 transparent formal process that will -- that folks can 17 rely upon. 18 And so with that, we received a request in 19 late September regarding a discrete question of whether 20 or not a ballot measure's petition circulation would 21 qualify -- if you made payments towards that, would 22 that qualify as campaign media spending, or, if, as 23 here, a donor opted out, right, which is to say said to 24 their -- the covered person or end spender, I don't

25 want my dollars used for campaign media spending, you

Item IV, discussion and possible action on 2 Advisory Opinion Request 2023-01 from Service Employees
3 International Union-United Healthcare Workers West.
 4 This Agenda item represents our first advisory request 5 under Proposition 211. The issue presented by the 6 requestor is, does a donation, monetary -- excuse me -- 7 monetary or in-kind, made to a ballot committee in 8 support of its collection of signatures for ballot 9 measure qualification, qualification efforts, support a 10 covered person's campaign media spending as defined by 11 the Act.
12
             The staff has prepared a recommended response 13 that is in your packet. I'm going to ask Tom to 14 summarize this document. And then, Commissioners, if 15 you have any questions, I will ask -- I will turn to 16 you.
17
             Tom.
18
             MR. COLLINS: Yes. Thank you, Mr. Chairman,
19 Commissioners. So as Commissioner Kimble mentioned, 20 the Commission passed a rule -- adopted a rule called 21 R2-20-808 -- excuse me -- that provides for an advisory 22 opinion process. The advisory opinion process is 23 designed to allow folks who have a basis for doing so 24 to ask the Commission a question about whether or not a

25 particular course of action will be -- you know, how it

1 know, but can that -- can those dollars still be used 2 for ballot measure petition circulation.
             I know you all -- all three Commissioners who 4 are here, I know you're all very familiar with the 5 petition process, but just so -- you know, sort of for 6 the record formally, you know, under the Arizona 7 Constitution voters themselves can initiate 8 legislation, either statutory or constitutional, and 9 there is a formal process that involves, you know, 10 printing petitions of the proposed legislation, 11 circulating those -- that text along with the 12 petitions, and voters who are eligible to vote in that 13 particular -- whatever jurisdiction, in this case 14 statewide, can -- are eligible to vote can sign saying, 15 yes, I would like to have the opportunity to vote on 16 this on the ballot.
17
             This is a heavily regulated area of political 18 activity, the petition process is, the initiative 19 process is. I mean, it's sort of -- you know, from my 20 point of view, on its face it's First Amendment 21 activity very clearly, it's literally petitioning the 22 government, and yet it's one of the most heavily 23 regulated areas in Arizona political law.

25 out, was, you know, if you're going to pay for

So to -- so the question, you know, as I laid signatures, is that campaign media spending. And the analysis that we've recommended follows -- traces out the statutory terms, and -- and two highlights of that.

First, the definitions of campaign media spending in Prop 211 relate to public communications, and public communications is defined, you know, to include billboards, television, Internet, you know, other things like that. And here the advisory opinion request states that the requestor would not be doing any of those things or supporting any of those things.

And it also says that -- but if you were doing public communications related to a ballot measure, that would fall under the category of campaign media spending.

So the upshot is, if I said to a -- as a

So the upshot is, if I said to a -- as a donor if I said I want to opt out from having my dollars used for campaign media spending, are these petitions themselves campaign media spending, essentially.

19 And the staff's conclusion or recommendation 20 for the Commission is that they are not campaign media 21 spending because that discrete and heavily regulated on 22 its own process of petitioning the government through

23 those forms -- that petition formal process, you know, 24 is not a public communication as defined in the Act. 25 And thus, you know, we think that the answer to that

Dage

2 in on the advisory opinion, and I wanted to ask you 3 about one of those from Statecraft that supported the 4 advisory opinion, but seemed to then go into new areas 5 assuming that these would also be free of the 6 requirement to report. And in their -- in their e-mail

1 mentioned some -- some other organizations that weighed

7 they said canvassing and field activities are8 intrinsically a direct face-to-face mode of outreach,

9 they're not public communications, and similar

10 face-to-face activities in opposition to an initiative $% \left(\frac{\partial f}{\partial x}\right) =0$

11 or referendum effort should also not be covered.

12 And I'm wondering your thoughts on that. And 13 it seems like that's a stretch from what the advisory

14 opinion said, and I'm not sure that I'm comfortable 15 letting that stand without some comment.

16 MR. COLLINS: Mr. Chairman, Commissioners, I 17 think that's a fair question. The way we chose to 18 address that for present purposes was to take the --

19 you know, take the advisory opinion's context on its ${\hbox{\scriptsize --}}$

20 on its face and not really attempt to expand it beyond

21 the discrete question asked.

22 So the reason -- and the reason why, and this 23 goes to your point, why I would not want to expand

24 beyond the -- I mean, first of all, obviously, if there

25 was a specific question that we could be asked on this,

1 question is that that is not going to -- that that 2 course of action would be correct under the Act, that a

3 person who said $\ensuremath{\mbox{I'm}}$ opting out and -- but nevertheless,

4 this money -- I want this -- I think this money can be $\ensuremath{\mathsf{5}}$ used for petition circulation efforts, we think the 6 answer to that question is yes.

We received three public comments on this point. All of those public comments reached the same conclusion. Some of their analysis was a little more perhaps elaborate than -- than what staff believed necessary to answer this question. We think that the statute is pretty clear on it. I mean, we think the statute is clear as a bell on this.

And additionally, some of the request -- some of the comments asked us to sort of explore some other issues, such as, well, what does that mean for opposition to a ballot initiative. And I think that -I think that -- I think that -- you know, we did not get into detail on other issues that might have been $20\,$ raised in the comments, but rather think that we $21\,$ answered the discrete question in front of you and

22 provided an answer that we think is reliable and we 23 hope folks will rely on it and we hope you decide to

24 approve it. 25 CHA

CHAIRMAN KIMBLE: Thank you, Tom. You

1 we would consider it under the proper term -- proper 2 process. But under this process that we've outlined, I 3 think it's important to understand that we would need 4 to have a little bit more specificity about precisely

5 what field canvassing means, what that kind of6 face-to-face interaction would be in order for us to

7 provide the kind of analysis that we think is here. 8 In this case, the advisory opinion request

9 itself, you know, outlines with some -- with a level of 10 specificity what is to be undertaken and what is to be 11 excluded, and I think -- and I think the process that

12 we have put in place, which is -- parallels the Federal 13 Election Commission's process in most respects, I think

14 that we're better off, in this place, sort of answering

15 the discrete question. We -- there may be -- I think

16 with more detail we could provide a more specific 17 answer to that question now, but I think for present

18 purposes -- I think for present purposes I think we

19 decided or I concluded that it would be better -- we'd 20 be better off answering the question in front of us.

21 Obviously, I think that -- I think it's 22 helpful, I would say, to get a comment like that for $23\,\,$ the purpose of flagging additional issues, as you

 $24\,$ noted, that we will have to deal with at some point

25 down the road, but at this point we're not really in a

1 place to do that.
                                                             1 my only concern, and I'm not a lawyer, is that by not CHAIRMAN KIMBLE: Okay. It just seemed to me
                                                             2 saying anything about this, are they going to take it 3 that the request for an advisory opinion was for a 3 as -- 4 request on a narrow issue, and then Statecraft took
                                                                         COMMISSIONER PATON: Golden.
 5 that and expanded it greatly and almost said -- and I'm CHAIRMAN KIMBLE: -- as an understanding 6 probably taking this too far, but they almost said, 6 that -- that we agree?
 7 because of what you said in your advisory opinion, we
                                                                         MR. COLLINS: Mr. Chairman, the thing I --
8 are assuming this, thank you very much. And it seems 8 what I can -- what I can do, if this would satisfy you, 9 like we need to say something that -- that you're 9 I'm happy to, you know, draft a message -- a 10 communication to them that outlines that, you know, 10 bringing up things that were not addressed in the 11 advisory opinion and you shouldn't assume that just 11 and -- you know, I mean, I think that's perfectly 12 because you wrote a letter saying they assume that.
                                                            12 reasonable. I think that what you've said captures the 13
             MR. COLLINS: Mr. Chairman, I think that's a 13 legal advice that Ms. Karlson has just given you, as 14 fair question. What I would -- what I don't think we 14 well as my own recommendation on that point. And so I 15 need to do, and I wouldn't recommend, is adding 15 think that there would be no problem for us simply 16 language to the opinion to say that, because what I 16 writing them a letter that says, hey, you know, FYI, we 17 would like to not have the opinions become is having to 17 considered your comment at some length in open session, 18 and our position is -- you know, if you have a specific 18 have a rebuttal of every single public comment that we 19 have.
                                                           19 question that you would like to provide, please do so, 20
             But that said, I think that your statement is 20 but otherwise we're just not in a position to create -- 21 correct and it's correct as a matter of the policy I 21 and we want to dispel you of any idea that you have a 22 stated. In other words, the policy expressly says, if 22 reliance interest here.
23 you want to have something on which you can rely, this 23
                                                                         CHAIRMAN KIMBLE: Okay. Thank you.
24 is the process to follow, and so I think this 24
                                                                         Are there comments from either of the other 25 conversation itself makes that clear on the record to 25 two Commissioners with us today?

                                                                         COMMISSIONER PATON: No.
 2 that folks aren't going to make assumptions. Folks can CHAIRMAN KIMBLE: None.
3 make assumptions, but -- and they have to, right,
                                                                         Also, today Mr. Barton is with us, who 4 requested this advisory opinion. Mr. Barton, are there 4 that's the nature of making decisions.
             But, yes, I take your point and I -- and I 5 comments you'd like to make?
 6 agree that under the rules and the process we've MR. BARTON: Mr. Chair, I don't have any

                                                             7 specific comments, but I am here to answer questions if 8 having asserted a point in a Commission proceeding, 8 it's -- if it's helpful.
9 that we are -- we -- you now have some reliance

16 to emphasize that point by Mr. Collins, specifically

Thank you. I'm sorry. It feels like a 7 Monday to me right now. All right. Mr. Chairman, I move that we 9 approve the response to the Advisory Opinion Request 10 2023-01. 11 CHAIRMAN KIMBLE: Thank you, 12 Commissioner Chan. 13 Is there a second? COMMISSIONER PATON: I'll second. CHAIRMAN KIMBLE: Thank you, 15 16 Commissioner Paton. 17 It's been moved and seconded that we approve 18 the response to the advisory opinion request. I will 19 call the roll. Commissioner Chan. 20 COMMISSIONER CHAN: Aye. CHAIRMAN KIMBLE: Commissioner Paton. 21 22 COMMISSIONER PATON: Aye. 23 CHAIRMAN KIMBLE: Chair votes aye. 24 The response is approved 3-to-nothing. 25 Thank you. 1 proposed, and some we opposed, some we didn't. As I
 2 think you know also, the League is a totally 3 nonpartisan organization.
             I started observing because I was appointed 5 as an observer by the president of the League of Women 6 Voters of Arizona. I continued coming because I 7 learned so, so, so much about elections, as well as the 8 role of the Commission. And I sat through some 9 extremely interesting meetings and very challenging -- 10 challenging meetings, some that made quite a few 11 headlines, and, like I say, learned a great deal and 12 have always been extremely impressed with the 13 professionalism of all the Commissioners, as well as 14 with, Mr. Collins, you and your staff. Nothing but 15 pure professionalism. Always eager to hear comments, 16 responding as appropriate.
17
             The reason I chose to speak this afternoon -- 18 or, this morning, I guess, is that I noticed that the 19 Governor's Office of Commissions and Boards -- or, I'm 20 not getting the term right -- has actually put out a 21 notice seeking additional people to apply.
22
             And I just wanted to say that a number of 23 years ago I actually thought it might be my crowning

24 kind of achievement to apply and be on the Commission,

25 and then I read all the requirements and realized,

Page 21 1 because of my partisan involvement, in addition to 2 being in the League, I was not eligible to apply. But 3 I do know a few people who have, and I thought this was 4 a good time for me to like thank all of you 5 Commissioners. Some of you have been on for, it seems like 7 thousands of years. I know that's not true, because 8 none of us are that old, but it does seem that some of 9 you have been around for a long, long, long time. 10 You've never lost your commitment, your interest. Your 11 attendance is outstanding, your reading of the 12 materials, your commitment to the purpose of Clean 13 Elections. And even though your terms have expired, 14 I -- I just want to applaud you. 15 I hope that new people will apply. I hope 16 that new people will be appointed, because that's the 17 way the process was intended. Nobody was intended to 18 serve forever, even though some of you may feel like 19 that. But I wanted to thank you and thank you, 20 Mr. Collins -- thank all the Commissioners, thank you, 21 Mr. Collins, and all your staff. I've watched some 22 come and some go. They were all, again, very 23 dedicated. 24 I hope that new Commissioners will be 18 years. I started out observing the Commission because,

19 I think as many of you know, and I have certainly said

20 this in the past, the League of Women Voters, of which

25 supportive of the Commission, various changes that were
