The 2024 general election ballot is to carry the question of whether to amend the Arizona Revised Statutes related to rule making that would require an Arizona agency to submit to the Arizona Office of Economic Opportunity (AOEO) any proposed "rule" (defined) that is projected to increase regulatory costs in Arizona by more than $100,000 within five years of implementation. The measure would prohibit a submitted proposed rule from becoming effective unless approved by the legislature if the AOEO finds that the rule will likely cost more than $500,000 within five years after implementation. Sets a deadline for submitting the rule for review to the Administrative Rules Oversight Committee (Committee) and requires the Committee to submit the proposed rule to the legislature as soon as practicable. Permits any member of the legislature to submit legislation to ratify the proposed rule and exempts it from any statutes regarding the time and manner of rulemaking. Prohibits an agency from filing the final rule with the Arizona Secretary of State without legislative approval and stipulates that if the legislature does not ratify the proposed rule during the current legislative session, the agency shall terminate the proposed rule by publishing a notice of termination in the register. Allows a person that is regulated by an agency that is proposing a rule, to request the AOEO review the proposed rule, and the legislative to be able to request the AOEO to review any proposed rule. Stipulates that this legislation does not apply to emergency rules, or the Arizona Corporation Commission. Provides for severability.

Re: Advisory Opinion Request

Dear Commissioners:

Pursuant to Ariz. Admin. Code R2-20-808 adopted by the Arizona Citizens Clean Elections Commission ("Commission"), we seek an advisory opinion on behalf of Fair Democracy ("FD"). FD seeks clarification on whether certain public communications qualify as "campaign media spending" under the Voters' Right to Know Act ("VRKA").

I. Background

FD is a 501(c)(4) social welfare organization that is registered with the Internal Revenue Service. FD "works to ensure that the roots of American Democracy are healthy with strong voting rights and access, an engaged and informed electorate, an open and accountable government and trusted messengers engaging Americans in civil discourse."¹ One such project in furtherance of its social welfare mission is the "Policy Information Center," a website where FD provides educational content about legislative issues and officeholders. FD also sponsors digital issue advertisements to inform the public about these legislative issues, which typically link to the Policy Information Center website.

FD wishes to sponsor public communications in Arizona that discuss policy issues. The communications may refer to Arizona elected officials and/or candidates, as well as Arizona political parties. FD seeks guidance whether the following public communications qualify as "campaign media spending" if sponsored between 6 months and 90 days before a primary election. Each communication would link to an article posted on FD's "Policy Information Center" website.

Public Communication 2a:

Public Communications 2a, 2b, and 2c include the same graphic and text. State Rep. Robert Jacobs is facing backlash after introducing a bill that would slash taxes for HighPrairie Energy — one of his biggest donors. While not illegal, critics say it's a clear case of donor influence over public interest.

Jacobs claims the bill will boost jobs and help the energy sector, but watchdogs aren't buying it. They say the timing and the direct benefit to his top donor raise serious red flags. \bigwedge

Now, calls are growing for stronger ethics and transparency reforms. Voters and advocacy groups are watching closely.

Should lawmakers be allowed to push bills that benefit their biggest campaign donors? Share your thoughts! #EthicsMatter #FollowTheMoney #StatePolitics #TransparencyNow"

Public Communication 5

The following text would accompany the graphic: "NEW REPORT: Rep. Jacobs failed to file his taxes on time — again. If we're expected to follow the rules, why can't our elected officials? Arizonans deserve accountability, not excuses.

II. Relevant Legal Provisions

Under the VRKA, campaign media spending includes "a public communication that promotes, supports, attacks or opposes a candidate within six months preceding an election involving that candidate."²

Campaign media spending also includes a "public communication that supports the election or defeat of candidates of an identified political party or the electoral prospects of an identified political party [...]" regardless of when the communication is disseminated.³

III. Discussion

None of FD's proposed examples qualify as campaign media spending.

In Advisory Opinion 2024-03, the Commission determined that a public communication "that is focused on a particular policy view of an elected official but does not mention their candidacy" is not campaign media spending.⁴ In making its determination, the Commission examined how the terms "promote, support, oppose, or attack" ("PASO") bear on the word "candidate."⁵ The definition "uses verbs that speak to an action that involves not just the person who is a candidate, but the candidacy itself."⁶

The Commission also concluded that communications that refer to a political party as "means to another end" were not campaign media spending.⁷ According to the Commission, an "end" can include "providing context for a call to action to contact a legislature, seeking to bring more people into association with the organization, or facilitating direct communication with a particular elected official."⁸

Public Communication 1:

The advertisement refers to a current public official's support of a specific policy – restricting the abortion pill. The advertisement does not express opposition to, or attack, the official's candidacy. As such, the advertisement does not PASO a candidate under the VRKA.

Public Communications 2a, 2b, and 2c:

The advertisements refer to a political party's desire to cut waste and abuse in school voucher spending. The language accompanying the graphic asks viewers whether they think the voucher program needs more accountability. The advertisements do not support the electoral prospects of a party. Instead, the advertisements aim to facilitate discussion on a particular issue.

The conclusion should be the same with respect to Public Communication 2a, Public Communication 2b, and Public Communication 2c. All three advertisements are "means to an[] end" other than voting, with Public Communication 2a inviting viewers to share their thoughts, Public Communication 2b asking viewers to follow FD on Facebook to learn more, and Public Communication 2c asking viewers to join FD's mailing list.

As such, the advertisements do not support the electoral prospects of a political party under the VRKA.

Public Communications 3a and 3b:

The advertisements refer to an individual who supports spending Arizona tax dollars on private schools and ski passes. The individual referenced is not a current officeholder but is a candidate for office in Arizona.

Public Communication 3a identifies John Doe as a candidate for office, while Public Communication 3b does not identify John Doe as a candidate. Nonetheless, neither advertisement expresses opposition to or attacks the individual's candidacy but instead explains the individual's support of a particular policy. As such, the advertisements do not PASO a candidate under the VRKA.

Public Communication 4:

The advertisement refers to a current public official's support of a tax bill that would benefit the energy sector. The advertisement mentions that the legislation would benefit a major donor to the legislator's campaign, to build opposition to this tax bill. The advertisement is a "means to an[] end" other than voting by building opposition to the substantive policy and asking voters to share their opinions on ethics and policy. The advertisement does not express opposition to, or attack, the official's candidacy. As such, the advertisement does not PASO a candidate under the VRKA.

Public Communication 5:

The advertisement highlights a current public official's failure to timely file taxes and asks whether public officials are held to a different standard than other Arizonans. The advertisement does not reference or express opposition to, or attack, the official's candidacy. As such, the advertisement does not PASO a candidate under the VRKA.

Just SK

Jonathan S. Berkon Emma R. Anspach Elias Law Group 250 Massachusetts Ave. NW, Suite 400 Washington, D.C. 20001

Re: Advisory Opinion Request of Fair Democracy

Dear Mr. Berkon and Ms. Anspach:

We are responding to your advisory opinion request ("AOR") on behalf of Fair Democracy ("FD"). The request asks the Commission to evaluate public communications that would be made during a particular window prior to the primary election to determine whether those communications would constitute "campaign media spending" under the Voters' Right to Know Act ("the Act" or "VRKA").

Question Presented

How should covered persons evaluate public communications to determine whether they constitute campaign media spending between 6 months and 90 days before a primary election?

Summary Answer

Spenders should consider several factors when evaluating whether a communication constitutes campaign media spending under A.R.S. § 16-971. For the "promotes, supports, attacks or opposes" ("PASO") standard in § 16-971(2)(a)(ii), relevant considerations include whether the communication identifies a candidate within six months of an election; whether it includes language that praises, criticizes, or otherwise addresses the candidate, the targeting of the communication, its overall presentation and tone; and whether it would reasonably be understood as seeking to influence the outcome of that candidate's election or whether, if issue advocacy, it identifies and advocates for a position on the issue. Under § 16-971(2)(a)(vi), communications that reference political parties are not campaign media spending unless they, in context, support or oppose the electoral success of that party's candidates. This may include partian calls to action, voter mobilization efforts, or messaging that advocates for or against a party's role in an upcoming election. Context remains central to both analyses.

I. Background

FD is an organization that is registered with the Internal Revenue Service as a 501(c)(4) nonprofit organization. AOR at 1. It describes itself as nonpartisan and focused on advancing transparency and accountability in government. Id. It states that its core activities include public education and advocacy on policy issues. It is not formed for the purpose of supporting or opposing political candidates, and it does not engage in electoral campaigning.

FD proposes to disseminate several public communications related to public policy issues and seeks clarification on whether any such communications it sponsors, i.e., pays for or produces with in-kind contributions, would be campaign media spending.¹

II. Legal Analysis

Section 16-971(2)(a) defines "campaign media spending" to include, among other things:

A public communication that "promotes, supports, attacks or opposes a candidate within six months preceding an election involving that candidate."

A. R. S. § 16-971(2)(a)(ii).

"An activity or public communication that supports the election or defeat of candidates of an identified political party or the electoral prospects of an identified political party, including partisan voter registration, partisan getout-the-vote activity or other partisan campaign activity."

A.R.S. § 16-971(2)(a)(vi).

In Advisory Opinion 2024-03, the Commission explained that the PASO verbs ("promote, support, attack, oppose") relate to the candidacy of the elected official, not only their public office or policy positions. Ariz. Citizens Clean Elections Comm'n, Advisory Op. 2024-03, at 6 (Apr. 18, 2024), https://storageccec.blob.core.usgovcloudapi.net/public/docs/1009-1035AdvisoryOpinion24 03AOR24 01FinalapprovedApril18 2024.pdf.

Similarly, the Commission explained that:

"[M]ention[ing] [a] party as a means to another end, whether providing context for a call to action to contact a legislature, seeking to bring more people into association with the organization, or facilitating direct communication with a particular elected official" does not "involve the electoral prospects of candidates of a particular party or the party itself." Id. at 10.

As a general matter, communications that address pending issues or legislation without referencing candidacy or electoral consequences, or that mention a political party in connection with issue-based or civic engagement purposes, are likely not subject to the definition of campaign media spending under the Act.

III. Proposed Communications

FD has submitted several proposed public communications that it may disseminate in Arizona. Each communication addresses matters of public concern, ranging from education and taxation to reproductive rights and government transparency. The messages vary in tone and format, and some identify elected officials or candidates by name. The communications are as follows:

Public Communication 1

This communication addresses proposed restrictions on abortion medication by Republican lawmakers in Arizona. The message contrasts supporter and critic perspectives and references Proposition 139, a voter-approved constitutional amendment on abortion rights. The communication invites the audience to weigh in on the policy debate with a prompt—"What are your thoughts on this ongoing discussion?"—accompanied by hashtags such as #AZPolitics and #ReproductiveRights. The post links to a more detailed article on FD's website.

Public Communication 2a

This advertisement focuses on Arizona Democrats' legislative efforts to advocate for more oversight and accountability in the state's Empowerment Scholarship ("ESA") program that provides students with money to obtain educational services outside of the public school system. The message highlights the Democratic members' commitment to curbing what they see as waste, fraud, and abuse, and concludes with an open-ended call for viewers to "[s]hare your thoughts." The communication includes hashtags that frame the content as part of a broader conversation on education policy and school funding, and links to an article with further information.

Public Communication 2b

Identical in content to 2a, this version of the advertisement includes a different call to action: "Follow us on Facebook to learn more." The focus remains on Democratic lawmakers' stance on ESA oversight, but the call to action is designed to build social media engagement with FD rather than solicit policy input directly.

Public Communication 2c

This version matches the narrative content of 2a and 2b, highlighting Democratic efforts to reform the ESA program with more oversight. The call to action here asks viewers to "Join our email list to learn more," suggesting the communication's purpose is to grow FD's audience and newsletter subscriber base.

Public Communication 3a

This advertisement names John Doe as a candidate for Arizona Legislative District 31 and criticizes his support for the state's ESA program, noting the program's cost and Doe's resistance to oversight reforms. It refers to him as an "outspoken school choice advocate" and implies a policy-based critique of his stance.

Public Communication 3b

Nearly identical in content to 3a, this version does not identify John Doe as a candidate. It focuses on the same policy positions and uses the same phrasing ("outspoken school choice advocate") but without expressly referencing his electoral status.

Public Communication 4

This communication criticizes State Representative Robert Jacobs for introducing a tax bill that would benefit High Prairie Energy, a major donor to his campaign. While acknowledging the proposal is not illegal, the message suggests donor influence and raises concerns about legislative ethics. It ends by encouraging stronger transparency reforms and includes a question asking the public whether lawmakers should be permitted to advance bills that benefit their biggest donors.

Public Communication 5

This final communication reports that Representative Jacobs failed to file his taxes on time again, questioning whether elected officials are held to the same standards as ordinary citizens. It uses a critical tone and hashtags like #HoldThemAccountable, but does not reference Jacobs' status as a candidate.

IV. Analysis of Proposed Communications under A.R.S. § 16-971(2)(a)(ii) (PASO candidate)

The Commission begins by considering whether any of the proposed communications constitute campaign media spending under A.R.S. § 16-971(2)(a)(ii), which applies to a public communication that "promotes, supports, attacks or opposes a candidate within six months preceding an election involving that candidate." In Advisory Opinion 2024-03, the Commission detailed that "a public communication that is focused on a particular policy view of an elected official but does not mention their candidacy is not contributing to the growth of or advertising the candidate, even if it might refer to the candidate" and therefore did not "promote" that candidate. Advisory Op. 2024-03 at 6. Consequently, whether a communication meets this definition depends in part on whether the individual is identified as a candidate, but also the language used to praise or criticize them and the targeting and presentation of the message. Id. at 6 and n.4.

Communications 1 and 4 do not identify any individual as a candidate or include content that promotes or opposes their election. These communications mention political parties or elected officials, they do so in the context of ongoing public policy debates. For example, Communication 1 discusses abortion medication access in connection with a particular Republican lawmaker as representative of the party position the communication describes, but does not reference any election. Communication 4 likewise highlights criticism of a current lawmaker's legislative activities.

Communication 3a and 3b differ and fall within the PASO standard because they attack the candidate. Communication 3a identifies an individual as a candidate for Legislative District 31 and criticizes his policy position by framing it negatively. The communication draws an inference that the candidate supports particular spending decisions by ESA users that have been held out for public scorn because the candidate "opposes effort to add oversight or prevent misuse of funds" and labels himself an "outspoken school choice advocate." See, e.g., Laurie Roberts, Poor rich kids. They (still) need our help to pay for piano lessons, The Arizona Republic (June https://www.azcentral.com/story/opinion/op-ed/laurieroberts/ 18, 2025). 2025/06/18/esa-universal-school-voucher-reform-arizona/84261748007/ (noting that "12 News' Craig Harris reports that taxpayers are shelling out $20 million this year for such academic imperatives as dance, piano and private swimming lessons."). Although the communication does not expressly call for the candidate's defeat or use campaign slogans, the combination of candidate identification, negative framing within a period designated by the statute may reasonably be interpreted as opposing the candidate's election. A.R.S. § 16-971(2)(a)(ii).

Communication 3b differs effectively only in that it does not use the term "candidate." That distinction alone does not meaningfully differentiate Communication 3a. The candidate is not, apparently, an office holder, nor is there any suggestion that a viewer or reader of the communication take any steps relevant to a current policy discussion.

Communication 5 similarly constitutes campaign media spending. It identifies a representative by name, but does not indicate candidacy. It highlights his repeated failure to file his taxes on time, placing him in a negative light. The tagline is "#HoldThemAccountable," and elections are a way of holding elected officials accountable. This falls within the definition by attacking a candidate. A.R.S. § 16-971(2)(a)(ii).²

V. Analysis of A.R.S. § 16-971(2)(a)(vi) (party support)

The Commission next considers whether any of the proposed communications support or oppose the electoral prospects of an identified political party under A.R.S. 16-971(2)(a)(vi). This provision applies to communications that, in context, promote the electoral success or failure of a political party or its candidates—such. Id.

In Advisory Opinion 2024-03, the Commission explained that mere references to political parties are insufficient. Advisory Op. at 10. The communication must connect the party to an electoral outcome. Id. For example, identifying a party in the course of legislative criticism or policy debate does not, on its own, meet this standard. Id.

Here, communications 1 and 2a, 2b and 2c mention political parties in connection with specific legislative issues. Communication 1 references Republican lawmakers in the context of restrictions on abortion medication, while communications 2a, 2b and 2c refer to Democrats when discussing ESA oversight. None of these messages include calls to vote, endorse partisan outcomes, or link the policy positions to electoral success. The references are incidental to issue advocacy and do not serve to advance or oppose the electoral prospects of either party.³

Accordingly, the Commission finds that these proposed communications would not constitute campaign media spending under A.R.S. 16-971(2)(a)(vi).⁴

V. Conclusion

This advisory opinion is issued pursuant to Ariz. Admin. Code R2-20-808 and is based on the facts presented in the request. A Commission advisory opinion "may be relied upon by any person involved in the specific transaction or activity with respect to which such advisory opinion is rendered, and any person involved in any specific transaction or activity which is indistinguishable in all its material aspects from the transaction or activity with respect to which such advisory opinion is rendered." Ariz. Admin. Code R2-20-808(C)(3). A "person who relies upon an advisory opinion and who acts in good faith in accordance with that advisory opinion shall not, as a result of any such act, be subject to any sanction provided in Chapter 6.1 of Title 16." Id. § R2-20-808(C)(4). Advisory opinions may be affected by later events, including judicial opinions and changes in law.

To the extent that the taglines here are intended to develop campaign media spending, a covered person or other party contemplating the statute should consider whether the activity falls within Ariz. Admin. Code § R2-20-801(B).

MEMORANDUM

То:	Commissioners
From:	Thomas Collins
Date:	June 23, 2025
Subject:	2025 5 Year Review Report for Governor's Regulatory Review Council

I am asking for approval to finalize and submit the Commission's 5 year rule review report.

Every five years the Commission submits a report to the Governor's Regulatory Review Council (GRRC) regarding its rules under the Clean Elections Act.

According to GRRC,

The reports are intended to be a concise written analysis of an agency's administrative rules that covers the previous 5 years. Council staff reviews the report according to the criteria provided in A.R.S. § 41-1056(A) and A.A.C. R1-6-301. Staff then prepares a memorandum that recommends approval or return of the report. Council staff presents the memorandum to the Council at a Study Session for consideration. The Council may vote to approve or return the report at the subsequent Council Meeting.

Our last report was approved in 2020 with little discussion.

The report covers the following aspects of our administrative rules:

1. The rule's effectiveness in achieving its objectives, including a summary of any available data supporting the conclusions reached.

2. Written criticisms of the rule received during the previous five years, including any written analyses submitted to the agency questioning whether the rule is based on valid scientific or reliable principles or methods.

3. Authorization of the rule by existing statutes.

4. Whether the rule is consistent with statutes or other rules made by the agency and current agency enforcement policy.

5. The clarity, conciseness and understandability of the rule.

6. The estimated economic, small business and consumer impact of the rules as compared to the economic, small business and consumer impact statement prepared on the last making of the rules.

7. Any analysis submitted to the agency by another person regarding the rule's impact on this state's business competitiveness as compared to the competitiveness of businesses in other states.

8. If applicable, that the agency completed the previous five-year review process.

9. A determination that the probable benefits of the rule outweigh within this state the probable costs of the rule, and the rule imposes the least burden and costs to persons regulated by the rule, including paperwork and other compliance costs, necessary to achieve the underlying regulatory objective.

10. A determination that the rule is not more stringent than a corresponding federal law unless there is statutory authority to exceed the requirements of that federal law.

A.R.S. § 41-1056(A)(1)-(10). GRRC Staff reviews these items before making a recommendation to the council.

The Voters' Right to Know Act rules are excluded from this review by A.R.S. § 16-974(D).

FIVE YEAR REVIEW REPORT Citizens Clean Elections Commission A.A.C. Title 2, Chapter 20, Articles 1-7

This report covers all rules in A.A.C. Title 2, Chapter 20, all articles. The Citizens Clean Elections Commission (the "Commission") adopted these rules to further the goals of the Citizens Clean Elections Act ("Act"). The Act was passed by the voters in 1998 and created the clean elections system to diminish the influence of special-interest money, including the opportunities for and appearance of quid pro quo corruption, and thereby to promote the integrity of Arizona state government. The Act promotes freedom of speech under the United States and Arizona Constitutions. It also created a voluntary system wherein participating candidates receive public funds to finance campaigns. To qualify for funding, participating candidates must follow the rules and reporting requirements adopted by the Commission. The Act also applies to candidates who are nonparticipating candidates and independent spenders in elections. The Rules implement the provisions of the Act. All rules created or amended prior to June 25, 2013 have been "pre-cleared" by the U.S. Department of Justice pursuant to Section Five of the Federal Voting Rights Act.

The Commission reports the following analysis of its rules in the order required by Arizona Administrative Code ("A.A.C.") R1-6-301. Pursuant to A.A.C. R1-6-301(B), Part I includes information pertaining to all, or a great number, of the rules. Part II reports information unique to individual rules.

Part I: Analysis Which Is Identical for all Rules

1. Effectiveness of the rule in achieving the objective

All the rules are effective in achieving their objectives as stated below.

2. Written criticisms of the Rules Received in the Past Five Years

To the extent that the Commission has received written criticisms of the rules in the past five years it has come in the form of responses to ongoing enforcement actions and related litigation and regarding the application of a Commission rules to candidates debates.

A. In its response to a complaint by the Executive Director, respondents argued that the Commission's definition of candidate, Ariz. Admin. Code R2-20-101(4), to include agents of the candidate is invalid. See, e.g., Response to Complaint, In re The Power of 5s, Arizona Citizens Clean Elections Commission, MUR 21-01 (Oct. 13, 2021) (Response filed by Tim La Sota, Attorney for The Power of 5s), available athttps://storageccec.blob.core.usgovcloudapi.net/ public/docs/746-December-21-Meeting-Packet.pdf at 72; see also Complaint, Power of Fives LLC v. Arizona Citizens Clean Elections Commission, No. CV 2021-015826 (Ariz. Super. Ct., Maricopa Cty. Oct. 7, 2021).

B. In a letter to the Executive Director, Senator Jake Hoffman explained his objection to the Executive Director's application of Ariz. Admin. Code § R2-20-107(C). Jake Hoffman, Ariz. State Sen., Letter to Thomas M. Collins, Exec. Dir., Ariz. Citizens Clean Elections Comm'n (Oct. 1, 2024) (on file with the Ariz. Citizens Clean Elections Comm'n).

3. Authorization of the Rules by Existing Statutes

The Commission's general rulemaking authority is found in A.R.S. §§ 16-940 through 16-961 and A.R.S. § 16-956 (C) gives the Commission specific authority to adopt rules to carry out the purposes of the Article and to govern procedures of the Commission.

4. Consistency of the rule with state and federal statutes and rules and enforcement

In the process of preparing this report the rules have been compared against each other and A.R.S. §§ 16-940 through 16-961 and the Commission has determined the rules are consistent and enforced as written.

5. Clarity, conciseness, and understandability of the rule

All the rules are clear, concise, and understandable.

6. Economic, Small Business, and Consumer Impact Comparison

The economic impact has not differed from that projected when the rules were adopted/amended. The rules create no discernible economic impact for small businesses or consumers. For small businesses or consumers who make expenditures subject to the rules' reporting requirements, compliance with the rules imposes zero economic impact because the reporting requirement is simple and may be filed without any filing fee. To the extent that the obligation to file a report itself imposes an economic impact, that impact comes from the statutory reporting requirement and not from the rules. A failure to abide by any of the statutes or rules may create an economic impact on those subject to the penalties the Commission may impose.

The main costs are born by the Commission and include staff time to process reports. The Commission receives funds from the following sources:

- A 10% surcharge imposed on all civil and criminal fines and penalties collected pursuant to A.R.S. § 12-116.01;
- A $5 voluntary contribution per taxpayer ($10 when married and filing jointly) who files an Arizona state income tax return and marks an optional check-off box on the first page of the form. A taxpayer who checks this box receives a $5 reduction in tax liability and $5 goes to the Clean Elections Fund (NOTE: As of August 2, 2012, the Commission only receives $5 voluntary taxpayer contributions from individuals filing tax returns for tax years 2012 and earlier.);

- A voluntary donation to the Clean Elections Fund by designating the Fund on an income tax return form filed by the individual or business entity, or by making a payment directly to the Fund. Any taxpayer making a donation shall receive a dollar-for-dollar tax credit not to exceed 20 percent of the tax amount on the return or $680 per taxpayer, whichever is higher (NOTE: As of August 2, 2012, the Commission no longer accepts donations for the dollar-for-dollar tax credit.);
- Qualifying contributions received by participating candidates; and
- Civil penalties assessed against violators of the Citizens Clean Elections Act.

7. Analysis Submitted by Another Person Regarding the Rules' Impact on this State's Business Competitiveness as Compared to the Competitiveness of Businesses in Other States

No analysis has been submitted to the Commission.

8. Completion of the Previous Five-Year – Review Report Process

The last five-year-review report was completed and did not identify any needed course of action.

9. Probable Benefits Outweigh Probable Costs / Rules Impose Least Burden on Regulated Persons

In the process of preparing this report, the Commission has determined that the rules achieve their regulatory objectives with the least burden and cost possible, and the probable benefits of the rules outweigh the probable costs.

10. Corresponding federal law

There are no corresponding federal laws.

11. Compliance with A.R.S. § 41-1037

Commission rules do not require the issuance of a regulatory permit, license, or agency authorization.

12. Course of action the agency proposes to take regarding each rule

The Commission does not propose any course of action for the rules.

Part II: Analysis of Individual Rules

2. Written Criticism

In response to a complaint by the Executive Director, respondents argued that the application of a R2-20-101(4) defining candidates to include agents is invalid. Response to Complaint, In re The Power of 5s, Arizona Citizens Clean Elections Commission, MUR 21-01 (Oct. 13, 2021) (Response filed by Tim La Sota, Attorney for The Power of 5s), available athttps://storageccec.blob.core.usgovcloudapi.net/public/docs/746-December-21-Meeting-Packet.pdf at 72. Respondents also filed a lawsuit against the Commission based in part on that provision. Complaint, Power of Fives LLC v. Arizona Citizens Clean Elections Commission, No. CV 2021-015826 (Ariz. Super. Ct., Maricopa Cty. Oct. 7, 2021).

2. Written Criticism

In a letter dated October 1, 2024, Senator Jake Hoffman criticized the Executive Director's application of this rule to a debate for candidates for the U. S. Senate, arguing that the rule should have been applied to mandate the participation of a Green Party candidate at a Commission sponsored debate.

The letter came in response to the Executive Director letter explaining Commission statutes and rules in an inquiry commenced by Senator Hoffman.

The proposal, however, is not consistent with the Clean Elections Act and the Commission took no action on it.

Re: Advisory Opinion Request

Dear Commissioners:

Pursuant to Ariz. Admin. Code R2-20-808 adopted by the Arizona Citizens Clean Elections Commission ("Commission"), we seek an advisory opinion on behalf of Fair Democracy ("FD"). FD seeks clarification on whether certain public communications qualify as "campaign media spending" under the Voters' Right to Know Act ("VRKA").

I. Background

FD is a 501(c)(4) social welfare organization that is registered with the Internal Revenue Service. FD "works to ensure that the roots of American Democracy are healthy with strong voting rights and access, an engaged and informed electorate, an open and accountable government and trusted messengers engaging Americans in civil discourse."¹ One such project in furtherance of its social welfare mission is the "Policy Information Center," a website where FD provides educational content about legislative issues and officeholders. FD also sponsors digital issue advertisements to inform the public about these legislative issues, which typically link to the Policy Information Center website.

FD wishes to sponsor public communications in Arizona that discuss policy issues. The communications may refer to Arizona elected officials and/or candidates, as well as Arizona political parties. FD seeks guidance whether the following public communications qualify as "campaign media spending" if sponsored between 6 months and 90 days before a primary election. Each communication would link to an article posted on FD's "Policy Information Center" website.

The following text would accompany the graphic: "Arizona Republicans are considering new restrictions on abortion medication. Supporters say the measures provide additional regulations, while critics argue they conflict with Proposition 139, which was approved by voters to protect abortion rights in the state constitution.

Public Communication 2a:

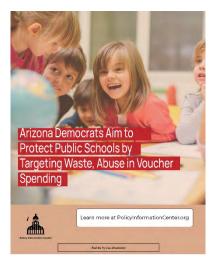

Public Communications 2a, 2b, and 2c include the same graphic and text. However, each version contains a different call to action – Public Communication 2a asks viewers to share their thoughts; Public Communication 2b asks viewers to follow FD on Facebook; and Public Communication 2c asks viewers to join FD's email list.

The following text would accompany the graphic: " Arizona Democrats have pledged to curb waste, fraud and abuse in the state's universal school voucher program! They're pushing for stronger oversight to ensure funds are used properly and not at the expense of our public schools. Do you think the program needs more accountability? Share your thoughts! #AZPolitics #EducationMatters #SchoolFunding

Public Communication 3a:

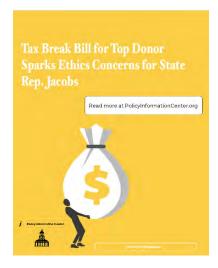

The following text would accompany the graphic: "John Doe, a candidate for LD 31, supports Arizona's universal school voucher program, which cost the state $444 million in 2024. Doe opposes efforts to add oversight or prevent misuse of funds and describes himself as an 'outspoken school choice advocate.'"

Public Communication 4

The following text would accompany the graphic: " A Ethics Under Fire in State Politics A State Rep. Robert Jacobs is facing backlash after introducing a bill that would slash taxes for HighPrairie Energy — one of his biggest donors. While not illegal, critics say it's a clear case of donor influence over public interest.

Jacobs claims the bill will boost jobs and help the energy sector, but watchdogs aren't buying it. They say the timing and the direct benefit to his top donor raise serious red flags. \bigwedge

Now, calls are growing for stronger ethics and transparency reforms. Voters and advocacy groups are watching closely.

Should lawmakers be allowed to push bills that benefit their biggest campaign donors? Share your thoughts! #EthicsMatter #FollowTheMoney #StatePolitics #TransparencyNow"

Public Communication 5

The following text would accompany the graphic: "NEW REPORT: Rep. Jacobs failed to file his taxes on time — again. If we're expected to follow the rules, why can't our elected officials? Arizonans deserve accountability, not excuses.

II. Relevant Legal Provisions

Under the VRKA, campaign media spending includes "a public communication that promotes, supports, attacks or opposes a candidate within six months preceding an election involving that candidate."²

Campaign media spending also includes a "public communication that supports the election or defeat of candidates of an identified political party or the electoral prospects of an identified political party [...]" regardless of when the communication is disseminated.³

III. Discussion

None of FD's proposed examples qualify as campaign media spending.

In Advisory Opinion 2024-03, the Commission determined that a public communication "that is focused on a particular policy view of an elected official but does not mention their candidacy" is not campaign media spending.⁴ In making its determination, the Commission examined how the terms "promote, support, oppose, or attack" ("PASO") bear on the word "candidate."⁵ The definition "uses verbs that speak to an action that involves not just the person who is a candidate, but the candidacy itself."⁶

The Commission also concluded that communications that refer to a political party as "means to another end" were not campaign media spending.⁷ According to the Commission, an "end" can include "providing context for a call to action to contact a legislature, seeking to bring more people into association with the organization, or facilitating direct communication with a particular elected official."⁸

Public Communication 1:

The advertisement refers to a current public official's support of a specific policy – restricting the abortion pill. The advertisement does not express opposition to, or attack, the official's candidacy. As such, the advertisement does not PASO a candidate under the VRKA.

Public Communications 2a, 2b, and 2c:

The advertisements refer to a political party's desire to cut waste and abuse in school voucher spending. The language accompanying the graphic asks viewers whether they think the voucher program needs more accountability. The advertisements do not support the electoral prospects of a party. Instead, the advertisements aim to facilitate discussion on a particular issue.

The conclusion should be the same with respect to Public Communication 2a, Public Communication 2b, and Public Communication 2c. All three advertisements are "means to an[] end" other than voting, with Public Communication 2a inviting viewers to share their thoughts, Public Communication 2b asking viewers to follow FD on Facebook to learn more, and Public Communication 2c asking viewers to join FD's mailing list.

As such, the advertisements do not support the electoral prospects of a political party under the VRKA.

Public Communications 3a and 3b:

The advertisements refer to an individual who supports spending Arizona tax dollars on private schools and ski passes. The individual referenced is not a current officeholder but is a candidate for office in Arizona.

Public Communication 3a identifies John Doe as a candidate for office, while Public Communication 3b does not identify John Doe as a candidate. Nonetheless, neither advertisement expresses opposition to or attacks the individual's candidacy but instead explains the individual's support of a particular policy. As such, the advertisements do not PASO a candidate under the VRKA.

Public Communication 4:

The advertisement refers to a current public official's support of a tax bill that would benefit the energy sector. The advertisement mentions that the legislation would benefit a major donor to the legislator's campaign, to build opposition to this tax bill. The advertisement is a "means to an[] end" other than voting by building opposition to the substantive policy and asking voters to share their opinions on ethics and policy. The advertisement does not express opposition to, or attack, the official's candidacy. As such, the advertisement does not PASO a candidate under the VRKA.

Public Communication 5:

The advertisement highlights a current public official's failure to timely file taxes and asks whether public officials are held to a different standard than other Arizonans. The advertisement does not reference or express opposition to, or attack, the official's candidacy. As such, the advertisement does not PASO a candidate under the VRKA.

Jood SK

June 26, 2025 Advisory Opinion 2025-01

Jonathan S. Berkon Emma R. Anspach Elias Law Group 250 Massachusetts Ave. NW, Suite 400 Washington, D.C. 20001

Re: Advisory Opinion Request of Fair Democracy

Dear Mr. Berkon and Ms. Anspach:

We are responding to your advisory opinion request ("AOR") on behalf of Fair Democracy ("FD"). The request asks the Commission to evaluate public communications that would be made during a particular window prior to the primary election to determine whether those communications would constitute "campaign media spending" under the Voters' Right to Know Act ("the Act" or "VRKA").

Question Presented

How should covered persons evaluate public communications to determine whether they constitute campaign media spending between 6 months and 90 days before a primary election?

Summary Answer

Spenders should consider several factors when evaluating whether a communication constitutes campaign media spending under A.R.S. § 16-971. For the "promote, support, oppose or attack" ("PASO") standard in § 16-971(2)(a)(ii), relevant considerations include whether the communication identifies a candidate within six months of an election; whether it includes language that praises, criticizes, or otherwise addresses the candidate, the targeting of the communication, its overall presentation and tone; and whether it would reasonably be understood as seeking to influence the outcome of that candidate's election or whether, if issue advocacy, it identifies and advocates for a position on the issue. Under § 16-971(2)(a)(vi), communications that reference political parties are not campaign media spending unless they, in context, support or oppose the electoral success of that party's candidates. This may include partisan calls to action, voter mobilization efforts, or messaging that advocates for or against a party's role in an upcoming election. Context remains central to both analyses.

I. Background

FD is an organization that is registered with the Internal Revenue Service as a 501(c)(4) nonprofit organization. AOR at 1. It describes itself as nonpartisan and focused on advancing transparency and accountability in government. Id. It states that its core activities include public education and advocacy on policy issues. It is not formed for the purpose of supporting or opposing political candidates, and it does not engage in electoral campaigning.

FD proposes to disseminate several public communications related to public policy issues and seeks clarification on whether any such communications it sponsors, i.e., pays for or produces with in-kind contributions, would be campaign media spending.¹

Section 16-971(2)(a) defines "campaign media spending" to include, among other things:

A public communication that "promotes, supports, attacks or opposes a candidate within six months preceding an election involving that candidate."

A. R. S. § 16-971(2)(a)(ii).

"An activity or public communication that supports the election or defeat of candidates of an identified political party or the electoral prospects of an identified political party, including partisan voter registration, partisan getout-the-vote activity or other partisan campaign activity."

A.R.S. § 16-971(2)(a)(vi).

In Advisory Opinion 2024-03, the Commission explained that the PASO verbs ("promote, support, attack, oppose") relate to the candidacy of the elected official, not only their public office or policy positions. Ariz. Citizens Clean Elections Comm'n, Advisory Op. 2024-03, at 6 (Apr. 18, 2024), https://storageccec.blob.core.usgovcloudapi.net/public/docs/1009-1035AdvisoryOpinion24 03AOR24 01FinalapprovedApril18 2024.pdf.

Similarly, the Commission explained that:

"[M]ention[ing] [a] party as a means to another end, whether providing context for a call to action to contact a legislature, seeking to bring more people into association with the organization, or facilitating direct communication with a particular elected official" does not "involve the electoral prospects of candidates of a particular party or the party itself." Id. at 10.

As a general matter, communications that address pending issues or legislation without referencing candidacy or electoral consequences, or that mention a political party in connection with issue-based or civic engagement purposes, are likely not subject to the definition of campaign media spending under the Act.

III. Proposed Communications

FD has submitted several proposed public communications that it may disseminate in Arizona. Each communication addresses matters of public concern, ranging from education and taxation to reproductive rights and government transparency. The messages vary in tone and format, and some identify elected officials or candidates by name. The communications are as follows:

Public Communication 1

This communication addresses proposed restrictions on abortion medication by Republican lawmakers in Arizona. The message contrasts supporter and critic perspectives and references Proposition 139, a voter-approved constitutional amendment on abortion rights. The communication invites the audience to weigh in on the policy debate with a prompt—"What are your thoughts on this ongoing discussion?"—accompanied by hashtags such as #AZPolitics and #ReproductiveRights. The post links to a more detailed article on FD's website.

Public Communication 2a

This advertisement focuses on Arizona Democrats' legislative efforts to advocate for more oversight and accountability in the state's Empowerment Scholarship ("ESA") program that provides students with money to obtain educational services outside of the public school system. The message highlights the Democratic members' commitment to curbing what they see as waste, fraud, and abuse, and concludes with an open-ended call for viewers to "share your thoughts." The communication includes hashtags that frame the content as part of a broader conversation on education policy and school funding, and links to an article with further information.

Public Communication 2b

Identical in content to 2a, this version of the advertisement includes a different call to action: "Follow us on Facebook to learn more." The focus remains on Democratic lawmakers' stance on ESA oversight, but the call to action is designed to build social media engagement with FD rather than solicit policy input directly.

Public Communication 2c

This version matches the narrative content of 2a and 2b, highlighting Democratic efforts to reform the ESA program with more oversight. The call to action here asks viewers to "Join our email list to learn more," suggesting the communication's purpose is to grow FD's audience and newsletter subscriber base.

Public Communication 3a

This advertisement names John Doe as a candidate for Arizona Legislative District 31 and criticizes his support for the state's ESA program, noting the program's cost and Doe's resistance to oversight reforms. It refers to him as an "outspoken school choice advocate" and implies a policy-based critique of his stance.

Public Communication 3b

Nearly identical in content to 3a, this version does not identify John Doe as a candidate. It focuses on the same policy positions and uses the same phrasing ("outspoken school choice advocate") but without expressly referencing his electoral status.

Public Communication 4

This communication criticizes State Representative Robert Jacobs for introducing a tax bill that would benefit High Prairie Energy, a major donor to his campaign. While acknowledging the proposal is not illegal, the message suggests donor influence and raises concerns about legislative ethics. It ends by encouraging stronger transparency reforms and includes a question asking the public whether lawmakers should be permitted to advance bills that benefit their biggest donors.

Public Communication 5

This final communication reports that Representative Jacobs failed to file his taxes on time again, questioning whether elected officials are held to the same standards as ordinary citizens. It uses a critical tone and hashtags like #HoldThemAccountable, but does not reference Jacobs' status as a candidate.

IV. Analysis of Proposed Communications under A.R.S. § 16-971(2)(a)(ii) (PASO candidate)

The Commission begins by considering whether any of the proposed communications constitute campaign media spending under A.R.S. § 16-971(2)(a)(ii), which applies to a public communication that "promotes, supports, attacks or opposes a candidate within six months preceding an election involving that candidate." In Advisory Opinion 2024-03, the Commission detailed that "a public communication that is focused on a particular policy view of an elected official but does not mention their candidacy is not contributing to the growth of or advertising the candidate, even if it might refer to the candidate" and therefore did not "promote" that candidate. Advisory Op. 2024-03 at 6. Consequently, whether a communication meets this definition depends in part on whether the individual is identified as a candidate, but also the language used to praise or criticize them and the targeting and presentation of the message. Id. at 6 and fn. 4.

Communications 1 and 4 do not identify any individual as a candidate or include content that promotes or opposes their election. These communications mention political parties or elected officials, they do so in the context of ongoing public policy debates. For example, Communication 1 discusses abortion medication access in connection with a particular Republican lawmaker as representative of the party position the communication describes, but does not reference any election. Communication 4 likewise highlights criticism of a current lawmaker's legislative activities.

Communication 3a and 3b differ and fall within the PASO standard because they attack the candidate. Communication 3a identifies an individual as a candidate for Legislative District 31 and criticizes his policy position by framing it negatively. The communication draws an inference that the candidate supports particular spending decisions by ESA users that have been held out for public scorn because the candidate "opposes effort to add oversight or prevent misuse of funds" and labels himself an "outspoken school choice advocate." See, e.g., Laurie Roberts, ESA's universal school voucher reform is flailing in Arizona, The Arizona Republic (June https://www.azcentral.com/story/opinion/op-ed/laurieroberts/ 18, 2025), 2025/06/18/esa-universal-school-voucher-reform-arizona/84261748007/ (noting that "12 News' Craig Harris reports that taxpayers are shelling out $20 million this year for such academic imperatives as dance, piano and private swimming lessons."). Although the communication does not expressly call for the candidate's defeat or use campaign slogans, the combination of candidate identification, negative framing within a period designated by the statute may reasonably be interpreted as opposing the candidate's election. A.R.S. § 16-971(2)(a)(ii).

Communication 3b differs effectively only in that it does not use the term "candidate." That distinction alone does not meaningfully differentiate Communication 3a. The candidate is not, apparently, an office holder, nor is there any suggestion that a viewer or reader of the communication take any steps relevant to a current policy discussion.

Communication 5 similarly constitutes campaign media spending. It identifies a representative by name, but does not indicate candidacy. It highlights his repeated failure to file his taxes on time, placing him in a negative light. The tagline is "#HoldThem Accountable," and elections are a way of holding elected officials accountable. This falls within the definition by attacking a candidate. A.R.S. § 16-971(2)(a)(ii).²

The Commission next considers whether any of the proposed communications support or oppose the electoral prospects of an identified political party under A.R.S. 16-971(2)(a)(vi). This provision applies to communications that, in context, promote the electoral success or failure of a political party or its candidates—such. Id.

² Because we reach this conclusion, we do not analyze whether these communications otherwise constitute express advocacy. See A.R.S. § 16-971(A)(2)(i); see also Comm. for Justice & Fairness v. Ariz. Sec 'y of State's Office, 235 Ariz. 347 (App. 2014), A.R.S. § 16-901.01.

In Advisory Opinion 2024-03, the Commission explained that mere references to political parties are insufficient. Id. at 10. The communication must connect the party to an electoral outcome. Id. For example, identifying a party in the course of legislative criticism or policy debate does not, on its own, meet this standard. Id.

Here, communications 1 and 2a, 2b and 2c mention political parties in connection with specific legislative issues. Communication 1 references Republican lawmakers in the context of restrictions on abortion medication, while communications 2a, 2b and 2c refer to Democrats when discussing ESA oversight. None of these messages include calls to vote, endorse partisan outcomes, or link the policy positions to electoral success. The references are incidental to issue advocacy and do not serve to advance or oppose the electoral prospects of either party.³

Accordingly, the Commission finds that these proposed communications would not constitute campaign media spending under A.R.S. 16-971(2)(a)(vi).⁴

V. Conclusion

This advisory opinion is issued pursuant to Ariz. Admin. Code R2-20-808 and is based on the facts presented in the request. A Commission advisory opinion "may be relied upon by any person involved in the specific transaction or activity with respect to which such advisory opinion is rendered, and any person involved in any specific transaction or activity which is indistinguishable in all its material aspects

To the extent that the taglines here are intended to develop campaign media spending, a covered person or other party contemplating the statute should consider whether the activity contemplated falls within Ariz. Admin. Code § R2-20-801(B).

from the transaction or activity with respect to which such advisory opinion is rendered." Ariz. Admin. Code R2-20-808(C)(3). A "person who relies upon an advisory opinion and who acts in good faith in accordance with that advisory opinion shall not, as a result of any such act, be subject to any sanction provided in Chapter 6.1 of Title 16." Id. § R2-20-808(C)(4). Advisory opinions may be affected by later events, including judicial opinions and changes in law.

MEMORANDUM

To:	Commissioners
From:	Thomas Collins
Date:	June 23, 2025
Subject:	2025 5 Year Review Report for Governor's Regulatory Review Council

I am asking for approval to finalize and submit the Commission's 5 year rule review report.

Every five years the Commission submits a report to the Governor's Regulatory Review Council (GRRC) regarding its rules under the Clean Elections Act.

According to GRRC,

The reports are intended to be a concise written analysis of an agency's administrative rules that covers the previous 5 years. Council staff reviews the report according to the criteria provided in A.R.S. § 41-1056(A) and A.A.C. R1-6-301. Staff then prepares a memorandum that recommends approval or return of the report. Council staff presents the memorandum to the Council at a Study Session for consideration. The Council may vote to approve or return the report at the subsequent Council Meeting.

Our last report was approved in 2020 with little discussion.

The report covers the following aspects of our administrative rules:

1. The rule's effectiveness in achieving its objectives, including a summary of any available data supporting the conclusions reached.

2. Written criticisms of the rule received during the previous five years, including any written analyses submitted to the agency questioning whether the rule is based on valid scientific or reliable principles or methods.

3. Authorization of the rule by existing statutes.

4. Whether the rule is consistent with statutes or other rules made by the agency and current agency enforcement policy.

5. The clarity, conciseness and understandability of the rule.

6. The estimated economic, small business and consumer impact of the rules as compared to the economic, small business and consumer impact statement prepared on the last making of the rules.

7. Any analysis submitted to the agency by another person regarding the rule's impact on this state's business competitiveness as compared to the competitiveness of businesses in other states.

8. If applicable, that the agency completed the previous five-year review process.

9. A determination that the probable benefits of the rule outweigh within this state the probable costs of the rule, and the rule imposes the least burden and costs to persons regulated by the rule, including paperwork and other compliance costs, necessary to achieve the underlying regulatory objective.

10. A determination that the rule is not more stringent than a corresponding federal law unless there is statutory authority to exceed the requirements of that federal law.

A.R.S. § 41-1056(A)(1)-(10). GRRC Staff reviews these items before making a recommendation to the council.

The Voters' Right to Know Act rules are excluded from this review by A.R.S. § 16-974(D).

FIVE YEAR REVIEW REPORT Citizens Clean Elections Commission A.A.C. Title 2, Chapter 20, Articles 1-7

This report covers all rules in A.A.C. Title 2, Chapter 20, all articles. The Citizens Clean Elections Commission (the "Commission") adopted these rules to further the goals of the Citizens Clean Elections Act ("Act"). The Act was passed by the voters in 1998 and created the clean elections system to diminish the influence of special-interest money, including the opportunities for and appearance of quid pro quo corruption, and thereby to promote the integrity of Arizona state government. The Act promotes freedom of speech under the United States and Arizona Constitutions. It also created a voluntary system wherein participating candidates receive public funds to finance campaigns. To qualify for funding, participating candidates must follow the rules and reporting requirements adopted by the Commission. The Act also applies to candidates who are nonparticipating candidates and independent spenders in elections. The Rules implement the provisions of the Act. All rules created or amended prior to June 25, 2013 have been "pre-cleared" by the U.S. Department of Justice pursuant to Section Five of the Federal Voting Rights Act.

The Commission reports the following analysis of its rules in the order required by Arizona Administrative Code ("A.A.C.") R1-6-301. Pursuant to A.A.C. R1-6-301(B), Part I includes information pertaining to all, or a great number, of the rules. Part II reports information unique to individual rules.

Part I: Analysis Which Is Identical for all Rules

1. Effectiveness of the rule in achieving the objective

All the rules are effective in achieving their objectives as stated below.

2. Written criticisms of the Rules Received in the Past Five Years

To the extent that the Commission has received written criticisms of the rules in the past five years it has come in the form of responses to ongoing enforcement actions and related litigation and regarding the application of a Commission rules to candidates debates.

A. In its response to a complaint by the Executive Director, respondents argued that the Commission's definition of candidate, Ariz. Admin. Code R2-20-101(4), to include agents of the candidate is invalid. See, e.g., Response to Complaint, In re The Power of 5s, Arizona Citizens Clean Elections Commission, MUR 21-01 (Oct. 13, 2021) (Response filed by Tim La Sota, Attorney for The Power of 5s), available athttps://storageccec.blob.core.usgovcloudapi.net/ public/docs/746-December-21-Meeting-Packet.pdf at 72; see also Complaint, Power of Fives LLC v. Arizona Citizens Clean Elections Commission, No. CV 2021-015826 (Ariz. Super. Ct., Maricopa Cty. Oct. 7, 2021).

B. In a letter to the Executive Director, Senator Jake Hoffman explained his objection to the Executive Director's application of Ariz. Admin. Code § R2-20-107(C). Jake Hoffman, Ariz. State Sen., Letter to Thomas M. Collins, Exec. Dir., Ariz. Citizens Clean Elections Comm'n (Oct. 1, 2024) (on file with the Ariz. Citizens Clean Elections Comm'n).

3. Authorization of the Rules by Existing Statutes

The Commission's general rulemaking authority is found in A.R.S. §§ 16-940 through 16-961 and A.R.S. § 16-956 (C) gives the Commission specific authority to adopt rules to carry out the purposes of the Article and to govern procedures of the Commission.

4. Consistency of the rule with state and federal statutes and rules and enforcement

In the process of preparing this report the rules have been compared against each other and A.R.S. §§ 16-940 through 16-961 and the Commission has determined the rules are consistent and enforced as written.

5. Clarity, conciseness, and understandability of the rule

All the rules are clear, concise, and understandable.

6. Economic, Small Business, and Consumer Impact Comparison

The economic impact has not differed from that projected when the rules were adopted/amended. The rules create no discernible economic impact for small businesses or consumers. For small businesses or consumers who make expenditures subject to the rules' reporting requirements, compliance with the rules imposes zero economic impact because the reporting requirement is simple and may be filed without any filing fee. To the extent that the obligation to file a report itself imposes an economic impact, that impact comes from the statutory reporting requirement and not from the rules. A failure to abide by any of the statutes or rules may create an economic impact on those subject to the penalties the Commission may impose.

The main costs are born by the Commission and include staff time to process reports. The Commission receives funds from the following sources:

- A 10% surcharge imposed on all civil and criminal fines and penalties collected pursuant to A.R.S. § 12-116.01;
- A $5 voluntary contribution per taxpayer ($10 when married and filing jointly) who files an Arizona state income tax return and marks an optional check-off box on the first page of the form. A taxpayer who checks this box receives a $5 reduction in tax liability and $5 goes to the Clean Elections Fund (NOTE: As of August 2, 2012, the Commission only receives $5 voluntary taxpayer contributions from individuals filing tax returns for tax years 2012 and earlier.);

- A voluntary donation to the Clean Elections Fund by designating the Fund on an income tax return form filed by the individual or business entity, or by making a payment directly to the Fund. Any taxpayer making a donation shall receive a dollar-for-dollar tax credit not to exceed 20 percent of the tax amount on the return or $680 per taxpayer, whichever is higher (NOTE: As of August 2, 2012, the Commission no longer accepts donations for the dollar-for-dollar tax credit.);
- Qualifying contributions received by participating candidates; and
- Civil penalties assessed against violators of the Citizens Clean Elections Act.

9. Probable Benefits Outweigh Probable Costs / Rules Impose Least Burden on Regulated Persons

In the process of preparing this report, the Commission has determined that the rules achieve their regulatory objectives with the least burden and cost possible, and the probable benefits of the rules outweigh the probable costs.

10. Corresponding federal law

There are no corresponding federal laws.

11. Compliance with A.R.S. § 41-1037
